ENOUGH

Isaiah 1:11-17

Abilene Christian University
September 18-21, 2011
acu.edu/summit

Hear the word of God:

"I have had enough

of your many sacrifices of burnt offerings;

I do not delight in the blood of bulls, or of lambs, or of goats.

Trample my courts no more;

I cannot endure solemn assemblies filled with iniquity.

Your appointed festivals my soul loathes;

they have become a burden to me that I no longer can bear.

When you stretch out your hands, I will hide my eyes from you;

even though you make many prayers, I will not listen;

your hands are full of

BLOOD."

A hand is shown from the bottom left, reaching upwards. The background is a light blue watercolor wash. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

“Wash yourselves,

make yourselves clean;

remove the evil of your doings from before my eyes;

cease to do evil, learn to do good; seek justice,

rescue the oppressed, defend the orphan,

plead for the widow.” – Isaiah 1

Wu also testifies before Senate and House subcommittees and briefs government officials across the globe on sex trafficking issues. ## From the President

Thank you for choosing to participate in ACU Summit 2011!

I hope you will fully experience our campus this week. I encourage you to converse with students, engage our faculty, meet other Summit participants and celebrate what God is doing across the globe. While you are here, take some time to walk the Lunsford Foundation Trail, explore the new Royce and Pam Money Student Recreation and Wellness Center, and see the Hunter Welcome Center, labyrinth and Jacob's Dream.

Welcome to four days of spiritual enrichment sure to challenge and equip you to follow Jesus Christ even more closely. Your desire to devote time to learn more about Him sets an excellent example for our students, who are already at work, learning how to join you in making a real difference in the world.

In Him,

Phil Schubert, President, Abilene Christian University

From the Director

Each year in preparation for Summit, we invite you to your knees in prayer. Approach God in prayer to prepare for what you will hear and see and experience at the Summit.

For 105 years Christians have gathered in this space for prayer, worship and challenging words from God. When we listen to the ancient words of a prophet such as Isaiah, we cannot expect to have our conscience soothed nor our status quo religion affirmed. We must expect a fresh word from God challenging us to be His people. The word we hear from God is "ENOUGH!" (Isaiah 1:11) If we really listened to Him today, then to what evil would God say, "I have had enough"?

So much of our Christian focus is on external changes – to appear relevant or insightful or to be esteemed or successful. This conference invites us to look deep, below the surface and into the heart. It implores us to do what is good, pursue justice, rescue oppressed people and defend those who are defenseless.

May God be glorified as we join His work in the world!

Blessings,

Brady Bryce, Director of Ministry Events

ADDRESS SERVICE REQUESTED

When someone hollers, "I've had enough!" people typically stop and pay attention. A worn-out parent, a fed-up employee, a jilted lover or an exasperated child could voice this desperation.

However, imagine God thundering His frustration through the word: "Enough."

In this year's theme, God does just that, forcing us to re-examine whether our practice matches our belief. The prophetic work of Isaiah is our text. The Hebrew prophets are a powerful force, yet are often ignored in volumes of our library of scripture. Long since read, studied and shelved, the prophets are not appreciated for their potent indictment. Prophetic words cannot be sipped in luxury like a cool drink of water, but arrive more like a bucket of ice water dumped on a society in a drunken slumber.

Isaiah may be separated into three thick volumes – 1-39, 40-55 and 56-66 – each reflecting different times when people heard God's words. While material certainly overlaps in all three sections, the first reveals a people when life is normal, denying that trouble is coming. The second section speaks to those stunned when their privileged status as God's people crumbles into exile. When they return home from exile, the third collection speaks to their changed views of God and their identity as God's people.

Relationship with God is changed by tragedy. God not only loves us as a covenant people but challenges us with a partnership demanding something more of us. We are a witness, a light to all nations. Come and explore this vast work of Isaiah in light of contemporary life. Let God challenge our complacency and demand our active pursuit of righteousness.
