GAINESVILLE, FLA. Jan. 30, 1913.

Dear Brother Larimore;-

The Trustees are compelled by force of financial circumstances to delay the delivery of your home, until their finances are relieved by returns from the sale of some of the lands and lots of Dixieland College.

The Trustees also believe it to be the better plan to build a new home for you, which could be arranged to meet your requirements, and better suited to your convenience. For the present, then, and until such time as the Trustees shall carry out this part of their original agreement with you,--they will provide a home for you at their charges.

So far as can now be foreseen it will be perfectly agreeable for you to continue your residence at the present place. Deeply regretting that this is the best that we can do at this time, we are,

Sincerely and Fraternaly,

TRUSTEES DIXIELAND COLLEGE

By

Secretary.
