Largo Fla July 20th 17.

Dear Bro Colson:-

Yours of the 13th to hand and it has set a new train of thoughts in my head. For some time I have been thinking of changing my location just for one reason. I am away off here in one corner where it makes my traveling expenses extra heavy. Because of that I have been thinking of getting more centrally located. I am being urged to go to Dade City, which would be a decided improvement on location, but Gainesville would be better.

I own my own home here, and after eleven years of sojourn here, I love the place, the work and the people. And find it hard to make up my mind to move yet. I find my self wondering if it is fair or just to the cause to entail this extra expense to gratify my pleasure.

I have no regular appointment here, but try to be here at least one Sunday in the month. I am here many work days and put in a lot of work during that time.

The Church here gives me the 1st and 4th Sundays contribution which will average $16.00 per month.

I don't suppose that they would keep that up if I was to move away.

If I could sell my home here I would like to buy here. If not possibly I could rent and balance accounts.

Now, I have written you fully and freely the situation. Think about it, and write me as I have written you.

Yours in Christ
W. A. Cameron
