Book Review: DAZZLE MAKES A WISH

Dazzle is a unicorn toy waiting to be purchased from a toy store. A grandmother buys Dazzle for a future grandchild, but when the grandchild turns out to be a boy, Dazzle is sold at a yard sale. Luckily for Dazzle, a librarian chooses him for the library. The stuffed animals can be checked out along with a diary in which to write their adventures. Dazzle goes to Maya and Mateo's home. Maya and Mateo play with their borrowed stuffed animals along with their friend Isabelle. Isabelle finds a fairy house inside a tree trunk and quickly tells Maya and Mateo they need to play something exciting. That's when everything goes wrong. Mateo is not happy and runs out of the house. Maya goes after him and promises everything will be okay. The children and the toys work to make everything right again. Maya is happy that Dazzle will have an exciting story for his diary.

This installment of the Book Buddies series by Cynthia Lord builds a young reader's confidence in navigating chapter books. The storyline flows beautifully, and the illustrations add to the story. Add this book and series to your collection.
