What Will It Cost Heaven If I Am Lost?

James W. Nichols

March 8, 1953

Quite a strange question isn't it? Someone asks, "You mean to say that it will cost heaven something if I am lost. Surely heaven can do without me. If I want to lose my soul eternally that is my business. It won't cost anybody else anything. Yet, strange as it may seem, it will cost others something if you are lost.

Did you ever stop to think that you do not have the right to be lost as far as your obligation to others is concerned? Fathers, can you honestly say, "I have the right to lose my soul if I desire," when that boy or that girl is following in the footsteps of daddy, believing he is the grandest man to walk the earth? Do you think it is right to lose your soul when it may cause them to lose theirs too? You wives, do you have the right to lose your soul when son or daughter loves mother and respects her above all others on the face of the earth? Husbands and wives, do you have the right to lose your soul when you realize that the one you love more than anyone else on the earth may follow in your steps to destruction too? What father, mother, husband or wife would argue that they had the right to harm themselves or commit suicide when they know that it would influence and harm the lives of their loved ones. Friends, I want to tell you that you don't have the right to lose your soul when it becomes your responsibility to those you love. You're being lost may cost the soul of husband or your wife, your son or daughter, your father or mother.

Even further than that, it will cost heaven something if you are lost. First of all it will mean that God's love was extended to you in vain, God will have lost his love. The apostle Paul says in I Tim 2:3-4, "This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who would have all men to be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth." In other words God loves you so much that he doesn't want you to be lost. But this does not mean that God wants you to be saved separate and apart from his will for he would have you to come to the knowledge of the truth and follow him in obedience. Paul also tells us of this redemption in Rom. 6:17-18, "But thanks be to God, that, whereas ye were servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered; and being made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness." Therefore, by learning the truth and obeying the truth can we take advantage of God's love and grace toward us.

But this plan of salvation came to us by a price from God. That price was his willingness to give his only begotten Son. John 3:16, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life." Paul also speaks to those who have become children of God and tells his wondrous love that brought about that redemption in Eph. 2:4-5, "but God, being rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace have ye been saved.)" God gave up his son to a life of poverty and to suffer the trials and temptations of life and the shame and suffering of the cross. That is how much God loves you and that is how much the price was that God paid that you might be saved from your sins.

Loving parents often say to their children, "How much do you love me?" and the answer is usually an embrace and a kiss but what would be the answer of our father in heaven, if we ask, "How much do you love us?" No doubt the answer would be the cross. Try to picture Christ as he prays in the garden that the cup of death might pass from him and as he hung on the cross, try to feel the emotions of a loving father who gave and sent that son to endure all of that that he might obtain our redemption. Paul said, "But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Rom. 5:8. My friends, if you are lost, it will cost heaven God's love extended for you. Is it worth the price that you will make heaven pay?

But not only will heaven pay with the love that God extended to you if you are lost, but it will also cost heaven the love manifested in the life and death of Jesus, the son of God. Think of Christ as the prince of heaven enjoying all the glory and blessings of the father's house. Paul tells us that "all things were created by him and for him" and yet he was willing to leave all of this to attain not riches, not power, nor glory, or honor, but to feel the emotions of man, of hunger, of loneliness, of pain, humiliation and finally of death. Christ, the son of God endured all this! The apostle Paul said in Phil. 2:5-8, "Have mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, existing in the form of God, counted not the being on an equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, yea, the death of the cross."

It was by that death, manifesting the great love of Christ, that we may be reconciled to God. Paul tells us in Rom. 5:9-11, "Much more then, being now justified by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God through him. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life; and not only so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have not received the reconciliation."

But just how great was this love that Christ extended unto us? Let us for a few moments turn our minds back and by faith walk with Christ in his last few hours before his death. Kneel with him as he prays, so fervently that the bitterness of the cup might pass from him if it be the father's will. Feel the drops of sweat fall from his brow as if they were drops of blood. Then stand and feel the loneliness spreading over Christ as he sees his apostles have not been able to resist the temptation of sleep and no longer wait and watch with him. Feel the hated moist, betrayal kiss placed by Judas upon His brow. Walk with him as he marches away from that garden of prayer. Look back with him and see the apostles flee. Hear the false witness brought against him and listen as he hears the cursings of Peter as he denies that he even knew Jesus of Nazareth. Feel the crown of thorns, the cut of the reed as they smite him, the nausea as you see his body made wet with spittle. Stand before Pontius Pilate and hear thousands cry, "Crucify him, crucify him." Feel the weight of the cross as he tries to bear it alone and finally staggers with fatigue and falls. Feel the pain as the nails are driven through his hands and feet. As the Roman soldiers lift the cross, feel the weight of his own body as it tears his flesh held by the nails. Feel the heat of the noonday sun and his loneliness as he cries out, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Then hear him though in anguish call, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." This love that he gave, the price that he paid was that you might be saved through obedience to the word. My friends, if you are lost, it will cost heaven the love of Christ given for you. Is it worth the price?

But more than ever this, it will cost heaven the works of the Holy Spirit in confirming the words of the apostles that we might know the truth and by our obedience to it be cleansed from our sins. In the 14th and 15th chapters of John, Christ fortells his death and leaving to the disciples, but he gives them the promise that he will send the comforter, even the Holy Spirit that he might guide them unto all truth. He says in the 26th verse of the 15th chapter, "But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall bear witness of me:" And then again in the 26th verse of the 14th chapter he said, "But the Comforter, even the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I said unto you." And again in the 13th verse of the 16th chapter, "Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to come."

On the day of Pentecost that spirit came for the 4th verse of the 2nd chapter of Acts informs us, "And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance." And through the ensuing years the Holy Spirit, the comforter, sent from God, worked through Peter, Paul, James, Jude and John that we might by the word of truth so that finally Jude was able to say in Jude 3, "... contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints." This was the work of the Holy Spirit that you might have redemption from your sins and that you might enter into the pearly gates and the everlasting home. The words of God were given by him through inspired men. The writer of Hebrews says in Heb. 5:9, "and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the author of eternal salvation:" This word which the Holy Spirit confirmed is given that which we might obey and be saved. If you are lost the word of God will have been given in vain for you. It will cost heaven the work of the Holy Spirit. Is it worth the price?

My friends, I am persuaded the price paid by any one of these beings would be enough to constrain us to save ourselves by obedience to the gospel. Therefore, will you not resolve right now this day, "I will obey the Lord." I believe that Jesus is the Christ the son of the living God." Will you not today let the goodness of God lead to repentance, resolved to walk in sin no more. Paul tells us in Rom. 2:4, "Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?" Will you not then also today have the courage to confess your faith in Jesus Christ, not your faith in some manmade creed or tradition but that Jesus is the Christ the son of God? Then hear the words of Ananias the preacher as he spoke to Saul of Tarsus and also to you in Acts 22 and the 16th verse, "And now why tarriest thou? Arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name." My friends, those of you who have done these things but have worshipped God not according to his will, will you not put off the traditions of men and walk in them no more, but repent of every wrong doing and confess these sins and pray that God will forgive you. It will cost heaven the love of God, the love of Christ and the work of the Holy Spirit given for you if you are lost. I would to God that every person in the audience today would say that he will not waste the sacrifice and the price paid for his soul but resolve today, "I will hear the voice of Christ and obey his commandments."
