Book Review: NATURE IS A SCULPTOR: WEATHERING AND EROSION

This is a beautifully illustrated book. Each photograph illustrates a phrase about how the land is sculpted by some erosion process. Water, wind, and ice paired with time result in some of nature's most amazing landscapes. Each photograph is labeled to identify the name and state or country of each unique landform. The reader is introduced to the physical processes of weathering and erosion. The narrative is simple and to the point, using descriptive words with each image. This book also introduces the reader to some of the most spectacular places in the world. Well done!
