

LORGNETTE

Quarterly Review of Children's and Young Adults' Books

Author

Elliott, David

Illustrator

Illustrated by Ellen Rooney

Reviewer

Medina, Maria

Pages

Unpaged

Price

$18.99

ISBN

978-1-5362-0599-2

Publisher & Date

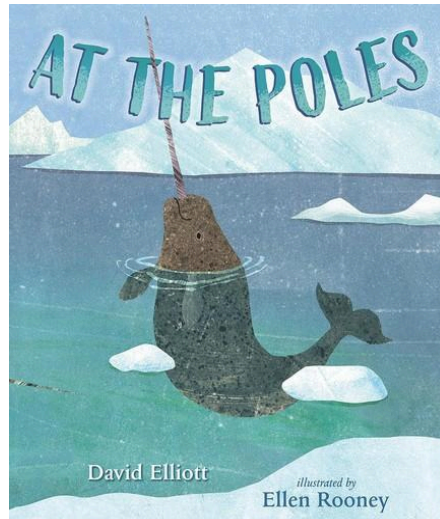

Candlewick, 2023

Classification

Nonfiction (811)

Grade Level

2-4

Book Review: AT THE POLES

The Arctic and Antarctic animals are explored in poetry form. Animals that live in both areas are also highlighted. The poems provide a unique view of the different animals. The author includes not only favorites like bears and penguins but also less common animals like the narwhal, krill, musk ox, and caribou. For further variety, the book includes poems about unusual animals such as the Greenland shark, ribbon seal, and tardigrade. Readers will enjoy the illustrations with each poem and learn new facts about these inhabitants of the cold regions. This title will inspire a different view of poetry for your readers.

