Scope and Content Note: These papers document the award of the Grover C. Morlan Medal from the early 1970s through the early 1990s. There are also photographs, newspaper clippings, correspondence, and subject files related to the Morlan and Gray families.

Biographical Note: G. C. and Alma (Adams) Morlan worked at Abilene Christian College as faculty members. G. C. Morlan began teaching in 1918 in the education department and in 1922 chaired the Education and Psychology department. Alma Morlan was the founding Home Economics Department Chair and served as the sponsor to the social club, Cadettes.

G. C. and Alma had four children: G. C. Morlan, Jr. (ACC '39), Alice Alene Floyd (ACC '42), Barbara Morlan Gray (ACC '45), and John Morlan (ACC '52). The materials in this collection were donated by John Gray, son of Barbara Morlan Gray and C. G. Gray.

C. G. Gray and Barbara Morlan Gray were married in 1951. Barbara's career in education included teaching in public schools, serving as an assistant registrar, and then in 1981 joining the ACU faculty. She continued in the General Studies program until she retired in 1993. C. G. Gray served the university as Vice President and Dean of Academic Affairs and was heavily involved in strategic planning for the university.
